

shots in the regiment. They were placed on top of the car ready for marksmanship in earnest if required.

FEARS AT PULLMAN.

Mayor Hopkins Didn't Share Them. No Extra Police.

CHICAGO, July 4.—Mayor Hopkins has called for this morning a meeting of the Council Committee which was appointed yesterday for the purpose of conferring with the General Managers and the strikers, with a view of finding some means by which the strike may be settled.

General Manager Wickes, of the Pullman Company, called upon Mayor Hopkins last evening and was closeted with him for an hour. He asked the Mayor for more police protection for the town of Pullman, during the Fourth of July celebration. He feared that there would be an outbreak on the part of the strikers, and that some of the Pullmans property would be destroyed.

The Mayor told him that he believed the town had ample protection and that the force to-day would be the same as usual. He assured Mr. Wickes that the law would be enforced and that order would be preserved.

Assignment of Troops.

When the Fifteenth Regiment, United States Army, arrived in Chicago at midnight by the Great Northern, they were met by the District Attorney Mitchell and Col. B. F. Crofton, who was in command, at the station, and after a hurried consultation, an assignment of troops was made.

The first battalion, consisting of infantry companies A, C, G and H was sent under command of Major Bailey, to Blue Island, the command going on a Rock Island special about 1.30 A. M. Companies B and D, under command of Capt. Hart, were sent to the Rock Island Crossing, commanded by Capt. Humphries, Troops E and K of the Seventh Cavalry, and E Battery, of the First Artillery, remained in Chicago over night, under command of Col. Crofton.

Soldiers with Records. Two detachments of the force which left for Fort Sheridan last night are famous for the work they did in the Sioux war of 1890. The two companies of cavalrymen were all but cut to pieces at the battle of Wounded Knee, thirty-five of the number were killed outright. The battery of artillery was particularly conspicuous in the troubles on the Ogallala and Brule reservations. It shelled the ravines after the clash between the Seventh Cavalry and the Indians, and when the pack train of the Mission battled the savages who held the troopers as they did on the banks of the Little Horn in 1876.

Situation at St. Louis. ST. LOUIS, July 4.—General Agent Gays, of the St. Louis Associated Lines, in a review of the local situation last night, said that the Iron Mountain and the St. Louis and San Francisco roads are the only ones which are holding freight in the regular manner and with regular crew.

At strike headquarters last night it was said that the men had the railways just where they wanted them, and that the strike was an arbitration of the differences at Pullman.

New Orleans Against the Strike. NEW ORLEANS, La., July 4.—At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, the Central Railroad in this city resolutions were unanimously adopted disapproving the action of the Pullman Company in striking on account of any disagreement between the Pullman Company and its employees, none of whom are in this city.

Can't "Shut Out" in Two. LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 4.—Strikers cut the Cannonball St. Louis mail train to Warrington last night and "killed" two engines, and the mail train to get away. The railroad company has made a request for a force of deputy United States marshals.

Strike on at Memphis. MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 4.—The local branch of the A. R. U. at midnight voted to order a strike on every railway entering Memphis, with effect from this morning. The strength of the A. R. U. in this section is not known, and the strike is awaited with interest.

Look at Sacramento. SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 4.—The strikers are in an ugly mood. Flushed with the victory won yesterday, they are determined to hold out. The Pullman Company has a train to which is attached a Pullman coach, and the strikers are being hit and serious trouble is feared.

Striker Fined for Assault. LITCHFIELD, Ill., July 4.—Frank Plummer, a member of the Pullman strikers, was arrested and put under a $500 bond yesterday afternoon for committing an assault on a Pullman coach. The coach was on a north-bound Pullman train. As the engine pulled out, Monday night, Plummer, threw a brick through the window, striking the engineer in the right side and seriously injuring him.

Firemen Out in the Strike. INDIANAPOLIS, July 4.—A Terre Haute special says: "Chief Sargent, of the firemen, who has been out since last night from firemen and mariners. Chief Sargent's position is the same as previously, and the firemen are the firemen, as a body, have nothing to do with the strike."

Quiet at Kansas City. KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 4.—Up to midnight there was no change in the situation from that during the day. Everything quiet, and the strikers are any the less determined in their position.

At Argentine, the terminus of the Pullman line, the strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

CRISIS NEAR IN CALIFORNIA. Regulars at Los Angeles, State Troops at Sacramento.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 4.—The troops of the State, as well as those of the Federal Government, are now in the field to give protection against the strikers in the great railroad strike. The trouble has reached a most serious stage, and excitement reigns in every railroad center in California.

Today, the First and Second Regiments of the National Guard left this city for Sacramento. They are prepared to remain there a month or more, and are armed with the latest Gatling guns. The situation at the capital city is critical, and the troops have been ordered there to assist in maintaining order.

Points of Trouble. The situation in the State is now one which may be briefly described. The trouble is centralized around three great points, namely, Los Angeles, Oakland and San Francisco. The National troops are at the Southern city, the State troops are at Sacramento, and the Federal troops are at San Francisco.

At every one of these points an attempt is being made to break the blockade simultaneously, and then minor divisions of the strikers have not yet been defeated.

single point in their original position of advantage. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

WASHINGTON FEELS EASIER. No Serious Trouble Looked For Anywhere To-Day.

WASHINGTON, July 4.—There was an easier feeling about the Executive departments to-day and less apprehension of violence and turbulence on account of the great railroad strike. The reports received in the morning were favorable and comparatively unimportant and gave encouragement for a hope that the strike would be settled without serious trouble.

At the Post-Office Department, Postmaster-General Nelson, Second Assistant Nelson, General Supt. White, of the Railway Mail Service, and other officials were conferred on the post office situation. Postmaster-General Russell said early in the day that he had no intention of changing the condition of postal affairs since yesterday afternoon.

The first train, consisting of infantry companies A, C, G and H was sent under command of Major Bailey, to Blue Island, the command going on a Rock Island special about 1.30 A. M. Companies B and D, under command of Capt. Hart, were sent to the Rock Island Crossing, commanded by Capt. Humphries, Troops E and K of the Seventh Cavalry, and E Battery, of the First Artillery, remained in Chicago over night, under command of Col. Crofton.

The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

CHEERS IN TAMMANY.

power in the General Government, and the strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

power in the General Government, and the strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

power in the General Government, and the strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

power in the General Government, and the strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

power in the General Government, and the strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

power in the General Government, and the strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

power in the General Government, and the strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

power in the General Government, and the strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

power in the General Government, and the strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

power in the General Government, and the strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

power in the General Government, and the strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

power in the General Government, and the strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

power in the General Government, and the strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

power in the General Government, and the strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

power in the General Government, and the strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

power in the General Government, and the strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

power in the General Government, and the strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

power in the General Government, and the strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

power in the General Government, and the strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

power in the General Government, and the strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

power in the General Government, and the strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

power in the General Government, and the strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

power in the General Government, and the strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

power in the General Government, and the strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

power in the General Government, and the strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

power in the General Government, and the strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

power in the General Government, and the strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

power in the General Government, and the strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement. The strikers are in a state of excitement.

DUEL IN THE STREET.

Joseph Saliman Probably Fatally Wounded by John Orian.

Had Been Making a Social Call Upon Him and Friends. Broke Up in a Row and Bullet Whistled About Freely.

John Orian, of 75 North Second street, in the Bedford avenue station, Williamsburg, on a charge of attempting to kill Joseph Saliman, of 156 North Fifth street.

Saliman went to the North Second street house, which is kept by a Mrs. O'Brien, a morning in call on some friends. All the boarders are foreigners, and it is pretty hard to find out what they quarrelled about. The first that was known of any trouble was when Saliman dashed out of the house with a revolver in his hand, closely followed by Orian and three friends, all Poles, each of whom was armed.

Saliman turned down Wythe avenue, still followed by the four Poles, and an exchange of shots immediately occurred. Fortunately the street was not crowded at the time, between 10 and 11, and a few pedestrians passing got safely out of range.

The firing fight was kept up until the men reached South Third street, where Orian, who was in the lead, made a dash for the ground and his pursuers followed him. He was followed by Saliman and his three friends, who were all armed.

Saliman turned down Wythe avenue, still followed by the four Poles, and an exchange of shots immediately occurred. Fortunately the street was not crowded at the time, between 10 and 11, and a few pedestrians passing got safely out of range.

The firing fight was kept up until the men reached South Third street, where Orian, who was in the lead, made a dash for the ground and his pursuers followed him. He was followed by Saliman and his three friends, who were all armed.

Saliman turned down Wythe avenue, still followed by the four Poles, and an exchange of shots immediately occurred. Fortunately the street was not crowded at the time, between 10 and 11, and a few pedestrians passing got safely out of range.

The firing fight was kept up until the men reached South Third street, where Orian, who was in the lead, made a dash for the ground and his pursuers followed him. He was followed by Saliman and his three friends, who were all armed.

Saliman turned down Wythe avenue, still followed by the four Poles, and an exchange of shots immediately occurred. Fortunately the street was not crowded at the time, between 10 and 11, and a few pedestrians passing got safely out of range.

The firing fight was kept up until the men reached South Third street, where Orian, who was in the lead, made a dash for the ground and his pursuers followed him. He was followed by Saliman and his three friends, who were all armed.

Saliman turned down Wythe avenue, still followed by the four Poles, and an exchange of shots immediately occurred. Fortunately the street was not crowded at the time, between 10 and 11, and a few pedestrians passing got safely out of range.

The firing fight was kept up until the men reached South Third street, where Orian, who was in the lead, made a dash for the ground and his pursuers followed him. He was followed by Saliman and his three friends, who were all armed.

Saliman turned down Wythe avenue, still followed by the four Poles, and an exchange of shots immediately occurred. Fortunately the street was not crowded at the time, between 10 and 11, and a few pedestrians passing got safely out of range.

The firing fight was kept up until the men reached South Third street, where Orian, who was in the lead, made a dash for the ground and his pursuers followed him. He was followed by Saliman and his three friends, who were all armed.

Saliman turned down Wythe avenue, still followed by the four Poles, and an exchange of shots immediately occurred. Fortunately the street was not crowded at the time, between 10 and 11, and a few pedestrians passing got safely out of range.

The firing fight was kept up until the men reached South Third street, where Orian, who was in the lead, made a dash for the ground and his pursuers followed him. He was followed by Saliman and his three friends, who were all armed.

Saliman turned down Wythe avenue, still followed by the four Poles, and an exchange of shots immediately occurred. Fortunately the street was not crowded at the time, between 10 and 11, and a few pedestrians passing got safely out of range.

The firing fight was kept up until the men reached South Third street, where Orian, who was in the lead, made a dash for the ground and his pursuers followed him. He was followed by Saliman and his three friends, who were all armed.

Saliman turned down Wythe avenue, still followed by the four Poles, and an exchange of shots immediately occurred. Fortunately the street was not crowded at the time, between 10 and 11, and a few pedestrians passing got safely out of range.

The firing fight was kept up until the men reached South Third street, where Orian, who was in the lead, made a dash for the ground and his pursuers followed him. He was followed by Saliman and his three friends, who were all armed.

Saliman turned down Wythe avenue, still followed by the four Poles, and an exchange of shots immediately occurred. Fortunately the street was not crowded at the time, between 10 and 11, and a few pedestrians passing got safely out of range.

The firing fight was kept up until the men reached South Third street, where Orian, who was in the lead, made a dash for the ground and his pursuers followed him. He was followed by Saliman and his three friends, who were all armed.

Saliman turned down Wythe avenue, still followed by the four Poles, and an exchange of shots immediately occurred. Fortunately the street was not crowded at the time, between 10 and 11, and a few pedestrians passing got safely out of range.

The firing fight was kept up until the men reached South Third street, where Orian, who was in the lead, made a dash for the ground and his pursuers followed him. He was followed by Saliman and his three friends, who were all armed.

Saliman turned down Wythe avenue, still followed by the four Poles, and an exchange of shots immediately occurred. Fortunately the street was not crowded at the time, between 10 and 11, and a few pedestrians passing got safely out of range.

The firing fight was kept up until the men reached South Third street, where Orian, who was in the lead, made a dash for the ground and his pursuers followed him. He was followed by Saliman and his three friends, who were all armed.

SAVED BY HIS WATCH CASE.

It Was in Gilbert's Pocket, and Stopped a Stray Bullet.

Another Man Shot in a Mysterious Manner in Brooklyn. Detective McCormick, of the Fifth avenue station, Brooklyn, is today trying to unravel the mystery attending the shooting of Louis Weiss, a watchman employed in A. Allen & Sons' rope walk on Third avenue, between Fifth and Sixth streets, who was struck in the abdomen with a 32-calibre bullet last night while sitting outside his office. It is believed that he is fatally injured.

Weiss is fifty years old and lives at 162 Twenty-fifth street. There is no record of any previous criminal record. Weiss told the police that he was sitting outside the office at 11 o'clock last night. Suddenly he felt a sharp pain in his abdomen, and he saw a flash of light. He saw nobody loitering about before the shooting, and did not see the flash of the shot. He saw a flash of light, and he saw a flash of light.

Weiss has no enemies, as far as he knows, and the police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger.

Weiss has no enemies, as far as he knows, and the police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger.

Weiss has no enemies, as far as he knows, and the police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger.

Weiss has no enemies, as far as he knows, and the police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger.

Weiss has no enemies, as far as he knows, and the police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger.

Weiss has no enemies, as far as he knows, and the police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger.

Weiss has no enemies, as far as he knows, and the police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger.

Weiss has no enemies, as far as he knows, and the police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger.

Weiss has no enemies, as far as he knows, and the police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger.

Weiss has no enemies, as far as he knows, and the police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger.

Weiss has no enemies, as far as he knows, and the police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger.

Weiss has no enemies, as far as he knows, and the police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger.

Weiss has no enemies, as far as he knows, and the police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger.

Weiss has no enemies, as far as he knows, and the police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger.

Weiss has no enemies, as far as he knows, and the police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger.

Weiss has no enemies, as far as he knows, and the police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger.

Weiss has no enemies, as far as he knows, and the police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger.

Weiss has no enemies, as far as he knows, and the police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger.

Weiss has no enemies, as far as he knows, and the police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger.

Weiss has no enemies, as far as he knows, and the police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger.

Weiss has no enemies, as far as he knows, and the police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger.

Weiss has no enemies, as far as he knows, and the police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger.

Weiss has no enemies, as far as he knows, and the police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger.

Weiss has no enemies, as far as he knows, and the police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger.

Weiss has no enemies, as far as he knows, and the police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger. The police are inclined to believe that the shot was fired by a stranger.

STABBED HIS WIFE.

Struggled Desperately with Her Father and Brothers.

John Kelly, twenty-eight years old, of 622 Driggs avenue, was held in the Ewen Street Court, Williamsburg, to-day on a charge of stabbing his wife, Bertha. The woman is in a dangerous condition at the home of her parents, 91 Grand street.

Mrs. Kelly, who is the daughter of John Tuft, was only married to Kelly about a year ago, but they soon found that they could not agree. Kelly said his wife was too fond of dress, and the woman retorted that he was too fond of whiskey. About a week ago the couple had another fierce quarrel and separated.

Mrs. Kelly going to her parents. Shortly before 6 o'clock last evening Kelly called at the Grand street house. He was well dressed and showed no signs of being under the influence of liquor. To Mrs. Tuft he said that he wanted to see his wife, but at first she refused.

He had no intention of hurting Bertha, was the reply. "I simply want to see if we cannot bury the hatchet and be friends again," he said. As this coincided with Mrs. Tuft's wishes she called her daughter into the parlor. Her father and her mother remained at the other end reading a paper.

Suddenly Mrs. Tuft heard her daughter scream, and looking around saw Bertha fall to the floor with a knife sticking in her breast. Kelly, who had used the knife, calmly withdrew it and aimed another shot at her, but Mrs. Tuft caught him and screamed for assistance.

Kelly quickly shook himself free from the woman and made another attempt to reach his wife. He was again stopped by Mrs. Tuft, who was holding him back. He was then taken to the police station, where he was held on a charge of stabbing his wife.

Kelly was taken to the police station, where he was held on a charge of stabbing his wife. Kelly was taken to the police station, where he was held on a charge of stabbing his wife. Kelly was taken to the police station, where he was held on a charge of stabbing his wife.

Kelly was taken to the police station, where he was held on a charge of stabbing